

December 7, 2001

The Honorable Steve Peace, Chair
Joint Legislative Budget Committee
State Capitol, Room 3060
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Senator Peace:

The Department of General Services (DGS) is submitting the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) Report pursuant to the Supplemental Report for the 2001 Budget Act - Item 1760-001-0666, #2. This report identifies and describes the following items:

- authority
- background information on NAGPRA
- discussion and results of the survey of DGS-owned and leased properties
- supporting information

The DGS has surveyed 46 owned and 66 leased properties with respect to NAGPRA compliance. Two of the 46 owned properties were either informed by the DGS to comply with NAGPRA, or were already proceeding to complete compliance requirements under their own specified directive. The DGS serves as a landlord only in a tenant-landlord relationship and has no regulatory or oversight authority for its tenants or their programs. It is the sole responsibility of the tenant to comply with NAGPRA if applicable.

If you need further information, you may have your staff contact Dr. Susan Stratton, Sr. Environmental Planner, Real Estate Services Division, Department of General Services, at 323-6951.

Very truly yours,

Barry D. Keene, Director
Department of General Services

I. AUTHORITY

Supplemental Report of the 2001 Budget Act – Item 1760-001-0666, #2

Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Department of General Services (DGS) comply with all terms of the Native American Grave Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA). It is the intent of the Legislature, therefore, that the DGS report by November 1, 2001, on the extent to which its museums, galleries, and other programs that contain Native American artifacts have complied with NAGPRA. As part of the November 1, 2001, report, the DGS shall provide the Legislature with a copy of all inventories that have been submitted to the federal government in compliance with NAGPRA.

II. BACKGROUND (Taken from National Park Service Center for Cultural Resources W48(436) Memorandum and CFR Title 43, Vol. 1, Part 10):

Congress enacted Public Law 101-601 on November 16, 1990, the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA, 25 U.S.C. §§ 3001-3013; 104 Stat. 3048-3058), to provide for the protection of Native American graves, ... and for other purposes. These regulations develop a systematic process for determining the rights of lineal descendants and Indian tribes and Native Hawaiian organizations to certain Native American human remains, funerary objects, sacred objects, or objects of cultural patrimony (definitions provided in Appendix A) with which they are affiliated. These regulations also pertain to the identification and appropriate disposition of human remains, funerary objects, sacred objects, or objects of cultural patrimony that are:

1. In Federal possession or control; or
2. In the possession or control of any institution or state or local government receiving Federal funds; or
3. Excavated intentionally or discovered inadvertently on Federal or tribal lands.

These regulations apply to human remains, funerary objects, sacred objects, or objects of cultural patrimony which are indigenous to Alaska, Hawaii, and the continental United States, but not to territories of the United States. NAGPRA requires museums and Federal agencies to:

1. Document certain Native American human remains and cultural items within their collections;
2. Notify all Indian Tribes and Native Hawaiian organizations that are or are likely to be affiliated with these holdings; and
3. Provide an opportunity for the repatriation of appropriate human remains or cultural items.

Federal agencies are responsible for ensuring that the requirements are met for all collections from their lands, whether the collections are held by the Federal agency or by a non-Federal institution. Two types of documentation for such collections are required under sections 5 (Inventories) and 6 (Summaries) of the Act.

Inventory: Section 5 of the Act stipulates that each museum or Federal agency having possession or control over holdings or collections of human remains and associated funerary objects must compile an inventory of such objects, and, to the fullest extent possible based on information possessed by the museum or Federal agency, must identify the geographical and cultural affiliation of each item. The purpose of the inventory is to facilitate repatriation by providing clear descriptions of human remains and associated funerary objects and establishing the cultural affiliation between these objects and present-day Indian tribes and Native Hawaiian organizations.

Summary: Section 6 of the Act stipulates that each museum or Federal agency having possession or control over collections which may contain unassociated funerary objects, sacred objects, or objects of cultural patrimony must complete a summary of these collections based upon available information held by the museum or Federal agency. The purpose of the summary is to provide information about the collections to lineal descendants and culturally affiliated Indian tribes or Native Hawaiian organizations that may wish to request repatriation of such objects. The summary serves in lieu of an object-by-object inventory of these collections.

III. DISCUSSION AND RESULTS

The supplemental language directs that the DGS determine, "...the extent to which its museums, galleries, and other programs that contain Native American artifacts have complied with NAGPRA." While the DGS does not have a program responsibility for such facilities, a list of DGS-owned and leased properties was prepared (Appendix B) to enable staff to survey building occupants. This list serves as the basis for the DGS inventory and preparation of this report and is comprised of 46 DGS-owned properties and 66 DGS-leased properties. The list does not include properties that the DGS may be responsible for leasing if the facility is under the control and use of a client agency such as Employment Development Department or Department of Health Services. The DGS' Building and Property Management Branch (BPMB) surveyed the occupants of all properties in the inventory to ascertain the likelihood of Native American collections being present on the property.

DGS-Owned Properties

The survey concluded that two of the 46 DGS-owned properties possessed Native American cultural items that may come under the jurisdiction of NAGPRA. Those two properties were the California State Archives located in the Secretary of State building at 1500 11th Street, Sacramento, and the California State Library located in the Library and Courts building at 914 Capitol Mall, Sacramento.

Dr. Blaine Lamb of the California State Archives indicated they were working under their own legislative directive to ensure compliance with NAGPRA. Dr. Lamb stated the California State Archives possessed one Native American basket for which provenance was known and which appeared not to fall under the jurisdiction of NAGPRA as well as European-made trade beads. Dr. Lamb will be submitting any necessary documentation on behalf of the State Archives directly to the federal government.

Mr. Gary Kurutz was contacted at the California State Library located within the Library and Courts building. Mr. Kurutz indicated the library possessed four Native American baskets that were acquired in the 1920s from a private collection donation. The provenance of the baskets is unknown. Based upon discussions with Mr. Larry Myers of the Native American Heritage Commission, it was suggested to Mr. Kurutz that a NAGPRA summary report be prepared. On follow-up, Mr. Kurutz indicated that he was working with California State Parks and Recreation personnel to either complete the necessary paperwork or to transfer ownership of the baskets to California State Parks and Recreation who would, in turn, ensure NAGPRA compliance.

The Role of DGS Property Management

The DGS is the state agency responsible for maintaining state buildings and for leasing properties for statewide programs. However, the DGS is not responsible for the contents of any office or storage unit, or for a tenant's potential possession of materials subject to this federal statute. Although the BPMB made an effort to survey for museums and galleries, tenants within the surveyed facilities may have collections of materials that were not on display. It is the sole responsibility of the tenant to comply with NAGPRA. Such a survey would require a substantial effort and potentially require an inspection of the personal contents of desks, filing cabinets, and other storage areas. We believe such an effort was beyond the intent of the supplemental language.

Summary

In summary, only two minor collections of subject materials were found as a result of this survey. In both situations, the persons responsible for those materials are in the process of complying with the provisions of NAGPRA.

IV. APPENDIX A

[104 Stat. 3048      Public Law 101-601—November 16, 1990]

DEFINITIONS (Section 2 of NAGPRA):

- “Burial Site” means any natural or prepared physical location, whether originally below, on, or above the surface of the earth, into which as a part of the death rite or ceremony of a culture, individual human remains are deposited.
- “Cultural Affiliation” means that there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced historically or prehistorically between a present day Indian tribe or Native Hawaiian organization and an identifiable earlier group.
- “Cultural Items” means human remains and
  - “Associated Funerary Objects” which shall mean objects that, as a part of the death rite or ceremony of a culture, are reasonably believed to have been placed with individual human remains either at the time of death or later, and both the human remains and associated funerary objects are presently in the possession or control of a Federal agency or museum, except that other items exclusively made for burial purposes or to contain human remains shall be considered as associated funerary objects.
  - “Unassociated Funerary Objects” which shall mean objects that, as a part of the death rite or ceremony of a culture, are reasonably believed to have been placed with individual human remains either at the time of death or later, where the remains are not in the possession or control of the Federal agency or museum and the objects can be identified by a preponderance of the evidence as related to specific individuals or families or to known human remains or, by a preponderance of the evidence, as having been removed from a specific burial sties of an individual culturally affiliated with a particular Indian tribe,
  - “Sacred Objects” which shall mean specific ceremonial objects which are needed by traditional Native American religious leaders for the practice of traditional Native American religions by their present day adherents, and
  - “Cultural Patrimony” which shall mean an object having ongoing historical, traditional, or cultural importance central to the Native American group or culture itself, rather than property owned by an individual Native appropriated, or conveyed by any individual regardless of whether or not the individual is a member of the Indian tribe or Native Hawaiian organization and such object shall have been considered inalienable by such Native American group at the time the object was separated from such group.
